Recommendations for Screening Tests Based on Age and Gender

By Carol Waggoner BSN, RN Public Health Nurse/Health Educator Community Health

Knowing which screening tests are recommended can be overwhelming. My HealthFinder is a website provided by the US Department of Health and Human Services. The website provides recommendations for screenings based on information and guidelines from reliable sources including the US Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) and the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP).

The website link is: <http://healthfinder.gov/myhealthfinder/>. Indicate your gender and age to get started. The website also provides links to additional credible sources for relevant health information including what tests are covered under the Affordable Health Care Act.
