Ethics and Cultural Sensitivity Training for Social Workers

Presented by David Carrillo, LCSW,
DCSW, CADC

Ethics: This workshop will provide information for social workers for ethical conduct and boundary information. Also, we will have a discussion of common ethical and boundary dilemmas.

Objectives:

- Responding to common ethical dilemmas
- Defining confidentiality and the limits of confidentiality
- Discussing the issue of competence
- Explaining the dynamics of dual relationships

Cultural Sensitivity: With the world becoming more and more diverse, diversity has taken a new importance in our places of employment including educational settings. This workshop will assist participants to understand what diversity is, and how they can create a more diverse world at their worksites.

Objectives:

- Able to explain the definition of diversity
- Able to describe the meaning of stereotypes and biases
- Able to use active listening skills to receive messages in a diverse population
- Able to identify ways to encourage diversity at our worksites and prevent discrimination
