McHenry County John Doe Case #19-073

The McHenry County Coroner's Office is requesting assistance from the public in identifying an adult male who was found deceased in McHenry County.

On May 4, 2019, the McHenry County Coroner's Office was requested by the McHenry County Conservation Police to respond to Rush Creek Conservation Area, Harvard, Illinois, in reference to a death investigation. The death was determined not to be suspicious.

The remains are that of an unidentified white male between 50 – 70 years of age. He has short grey head and facial hair. He is approximately 5' 10" tall and weighs 224 pounds.

The McHenry County Coroner's Office attempted to identify the decedent using fingerprints, dental examinations, and DNA analysis, but were met with negative results. The McHenry County Coroner's Office in coordination with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Forensic Imaging Unit compiled a digital facial reconstruction. Please reference the attached photograph created using cutting-edge digital technology.

If you have any information regarding a missing person resembling this forensic sketch or know the decedent's identity please contact the McHenry County Coroner's Office.

Chief Deputy Coroner Olivia Zednick at: OAZednick@mchenrycountyil.gov or call 815-334-3347.
